

Good Evening

Thank you for your support in the response to COVID-19. I realize you are on the front line making quick informed decisions on business continuity to ensure that your employees are safe and business impacts are minimized. Continue to look to me for contacts and requests for information.

Like you, I am also adjusting to the COVID-19 response as new cases are identified, information is provided, and requests for information are coming in. We continue to support Health and Human Services (HHS) in this response. In support of the National Business Emergency Operations Center (NBEOC), we are asking if you could take the time to respond to one or all of the questions below. This information allows us to understand your current situation and potential future impacts to your business in Region 10.

1. Business Continuity: How is your organization postured for the current situation?
2. Operational Resilience: What planning triggers, tradeoffs, or tactics would be helpful to align private & public sector activities?
3. Community Lifelines: What concerns does industry have with potential community potential community mitigation measures implementation?
4. Supply Chain Stabilization: How is your organization realigning to meet global supply chain and localized domestic disruptions?
